

WASP PROTECT

Portal > Knowledgebase > Hardware > Identifying Biometric Timeclocks models B1000
B1100 B2000

Identifying Biometric Timeclocks models B1000 B1100 B2000

Scott Barnett - 2017-06-22 - in Hardware

Is the case black or silver? Black = B1000 Silver = continue	A black biometric timeclock device. It features a small green LCD screen at the top center, a numeric keypad below it, and a fingerprint scanner on the right side. The 'Wasp TECHNOLOGIES' logo is visible in the bottom right corner of the device's face.	B1000
---	--	--------------

Color screen, or Black &amp; White? Color = B2000 B&amp;W = B1100	 The image shows a silver Wasp Barcode Technologies device. It features a color LCD screen at the top left. Below the screen is a numeric keypad with function keys: F1/ESC, F2/▲, F3/▼, and F4/OK. The keypad also includes buttons for 1-9, 0, and MENU. To the right of the keypad is a speaker grille and a barcode scanner window. The Wasp Barcode Technologies logo is visible at the bottom right of the device.	B1100, B1100E, B1100ECL
Do the number buttons have letters on them? No = B1100 Yes = B2000	 The image shows a silver Wasp Barcode Technologies device. It features a black and white LCD screen at the top left. Below the screen is an alphanumeric keypad with letters on the number buttons: 2 ABC, 3 DEF, 4 GHI, 5 JKL, 6 MNO, 7 PQRS, 8 TUV, 9 WXYZ. Other buttons include 1, ESC, 0/⊙, *, / ▶, M/OK, and directional arrows. To the right of the keypad is a speaker grille and a barcode scanner window. The Wasp Barcode Technologies logo is visible at the bottom right of the device.	B2000

Related Pages

- WaspTime v7 User Manual and Quick Start Guide