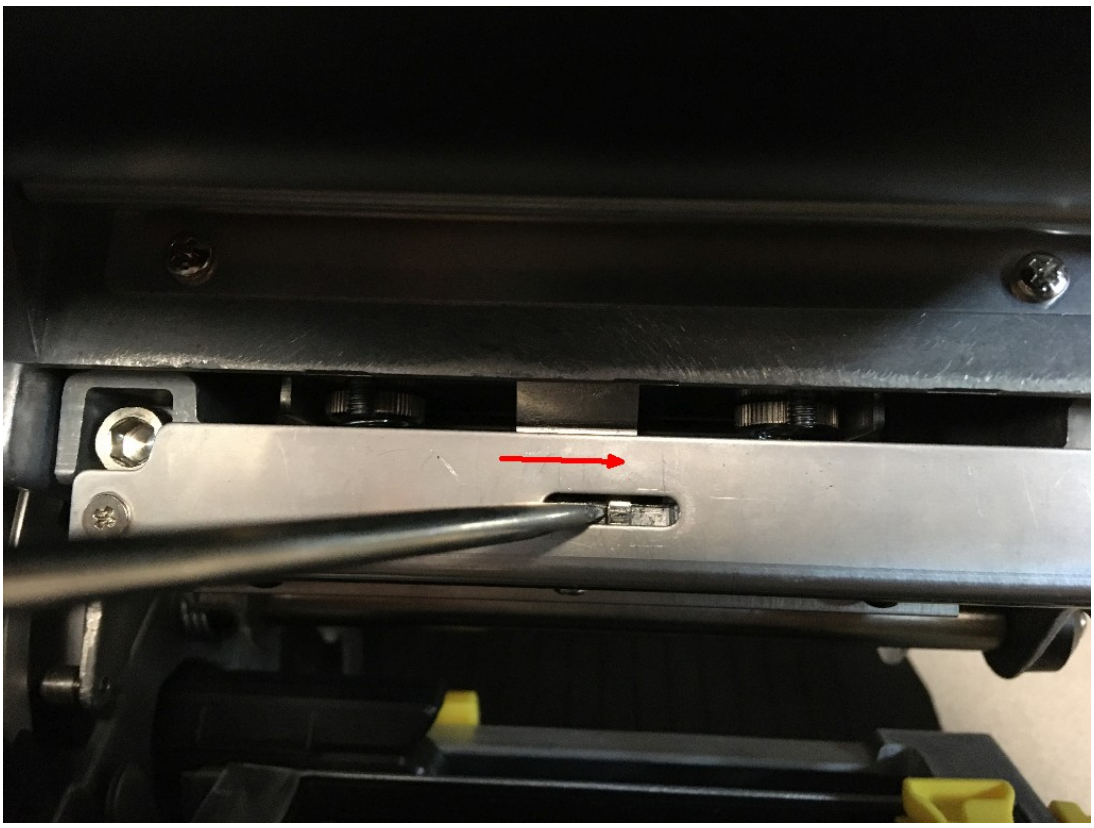
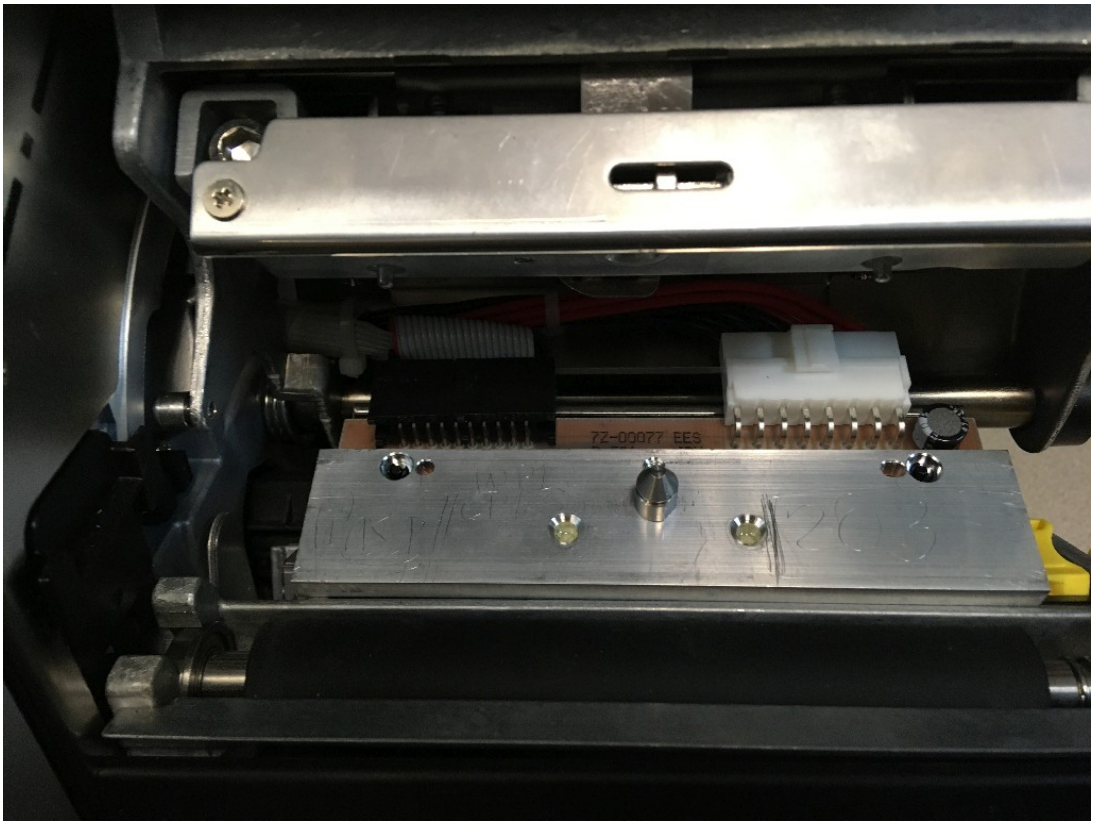
WPL614: Removal of print head, confirming ribbon cable plug connections

Scott Leonard - 2020-03-31 - in Printers

Place a slotted screwdriver in the print head slot, then slide to the right. The print head will pop free, revealing the cable plug connections to the print head. When the connections are snug, replace the print head and press up to snap the plug back into place.





7Z-00077 EES