InventoryControl - Looking at the Reorder by Location report does not show the reorder quantities I put in my Item information. They all say 0.

The reason these are all showing up as 0's on the report is because the report you are looking at the report that shows restock IF the item is being maintained by location. The only information in your maintain by location section for each item is all 0's, including the reorder qty. So, your Inventory By Location report is showing 0's. If you would like to see overall reorder information (which comes from the main item screen), follow the link and download the zipped file. Unzip it and place it in the reports folder of your MobileInventory installation directory. This will show you the generic reorder and not the breakdown by location.
